

AtlasSportsAI Ambassador Opportunities

Launch Program Tracks, Growth Paths, and Advancement Expectations

Internal Program Document | AtlasSports.AI Ambassador Program

!	Core Opportunity AtlasSportsAI is building more than a referral program. The Ambassador track is a launch distribution layer for creators, athletes, coaches, communities, operators, and media builders who can help grow the platform while the product expands across sports.

How to Use This Document

Use this document as an internal operating policy and onboarding reference. Ambassadors should review the full policy before promotion begins and should escalate unclear situations to Atlas leadership before taking action.

SECTION 01

Program Purpose

The Atlas Ambassador Program is designed to create a flexible, performance-based growth channel around sports intelligence, creator sponsorships, community partnerships, and digital media. Ambassadors may help Atlas grow by driving customer signups, creating content, developing community relationships, identifying creators, and supporting the launch ecosystem.

!	Opportunity Standard The program is open-ended and performance-driven. There is no fixed quota, but Ambassadors are expected to produce measurable activity, consistent communication, and valid customer growth if they want to remain active and be considered for larger opportunities.

SECTION 02

Who Fits the Ambassador Program

Ambassador Type	Best Fit
Sports creators and streamers	People who already create content around sports, DFS, fantasy, props, gaming, or sports commentary.
Athletes, coaches, trainers, and sports parents	People connected to sports communities, teams, local networks, or performance-minded audiences.
Community owners and operators	Discord owners, Facebook group admins, fantasy league commissioners, newsletter creators, and betting-content educators.
Digital media builders	Video editors, designers, short-form creators, podcasters, content operators, and campaign builders.
Connected local promoters	Students, campus sports voices, highly connected local sports fans, and people with strong personal networks.

SECTION 03

What Atlas Provides

- Unique Ambassador code or tracked referral path.
- Dashboard attribution for signups tied to Ambassador codes or links.
- Premium site access in 7-day activity windows where applicable.
- Access to Atlas dashboard features, probability views, EV context, market context, slip outputs, stat tools, and injury report tooling as available.
- Program documentation, media guidance, launch talking points, conduct requirements, and payout structure.
- Access to product updates as MLB, AtlasGPT, the mobile app, and additional sports come online.
- Potential sponsor-page visibility for qualifying creators, communities, and high-performing Ambassadors.

SECTION 04

Growth Tracks and Opportunity Paths

The Ambassador Program includes multiple pathways. These paths are not guaranteed jobs or titles. They are opportunity categories used to identify which Ambassadors may be considered for expanded responsibilities, paid pilots, leadership roles, or longer-term collaboration after the launch period.

Track	Opportunity	Best Fit
Creator Ambassador	Performance-based Ambassador role with custom code, payout eligibility, milestone bonuses, content freedom, and possible sponsor-page placement.	Short-form creators, streamers, sports personalities, local promoters, and high-output sellers.
Community Partner	Growth role focused on Discord servers, fantasy communities, Facebook groups, newsletters, and sports communities.	Community owners, moderators, fantasy league commissioners, and sports group operators.
Creative Media Builder	Potential expanded role for Ambassadors producing strong content and useful creative assets for Atlas promotion.	Video editors, designers, social content builders, podcast creators, and ad/media operators.
Growth Leader	Potential remote team-lead consideration after launch for Ambassadors who can organize outreach, help train others, and drive consistent growth.	Organized Ambassadors with strong communication, clean reporting, and proven signup performance.

Atlas Ambassador Opportunities

AtlasSportsAI Ambassador Program

Strategic Partner	Potential long-term contributor path for Ambassadors who excel across sales, content, leadership, product interest, and operational thinking.	Operators interested in growth, product direction, creator management, and long-term Atlas leadership.
-------------------	---	--

!	Future Roles Are Not Guaranteed References to possible team-lead, salaried, management, or long-term roles are future opportunities only. They do not guarantee employment, salary, base pay, equity, or continued program participation unless Atlas signs a separate written agreement.

SECTION 05

Performance Expectations and Active Status

No Sales Quota - But Consistency Matters

Atlas does not require a fixed quota. However, the Ambassador opportunity is designed for people who are actively helping the platform grow. Ambassadors who do not communicate, do not show activity, and do not generate valid customer growth may lose active status.

Review Area	Expectation
Sales consistency	Ambassadors are expected to generate valid paid customer signups over time. No valid paid signup within a rolling 30-day review period may trigger automatic deactivation.
Communication	Seven consecutive days with no communication to Atlas and no valid sale or recorded program activity may trigger automatic deactivation.
Professional conduct	Growth paths require compliance with the Conduct Requirements and all platform rules.
Tracking	Ambassadors should track outreach, content, signups, codes, obstacles, and performance in the portal or approved tracker.
Escalation	Creators or partners asking about flat fees, contracts, custom packages, or sensitive topics should be escalated to Atlas leadership.

SECTION 06

Product Roadmap Talking Points

Ambassadors may talk about the Atlas roadmap, but roadmap language must be accurate, cautious, and not overpromised. Features, dates, sports, and product scope can change based on data, engineering, market conditions, and launch priorities.

Roadmap Area	Approved Talking Point
NBA model and dashboard	NBA model and dashboard are live and represent the current production focus.
MLB engine	MLB expansion is in active development and part of the next major product direction.
AtlasGPT	AtlasGPT is planned as an AI helper for board review, slip explanation, model context, and workflow support.
Mobile app	A dedicated app is on the roadmap for alerts, premium access, Ambassador tracking, and mobile-first workflows.
Additional sports	NFL and additional sports are planned as data pipelines and model architecture mature.
Sobol / Quasi-Monte Carlo	Atlas is moving toward deeper simulation architecture, including Sobol / Quasi-Monte Carlo concepts, to improve coverage and stability.

!	Roadmap Caution Do not promise exact launch dates, guaranteed feature availability, or specific sports unless Atlas has approved the message in writing.

07

Advancement Review Criteria

Criteria	What Atlas Reviews
Valid sales	Paid customer signups, conversion quality, refund/chargeback status, and code attribution.
Communication	Responsiveness, weekly updates, willingness to escalate correctly, and professionalism.
Content quality	Brand-safe media, useful explanations, accurate positioning, and no misleading claims.
Community trust	Ability to work with creators, communities, coaches, athletes, and sports audiences respectfully.
Compliance	Disclosure habits, platform-rule awareness, responsible promotion, and clean conduct.
Leadership potential	Ability to organize work, help others, document process, and protect the Atlas brand.

08

Final Opportunity Principle

!	Build Growth the Right Way The best Ambassadors are authentic, professional, consistent, and accountable. Have fun, be yourself, but remember that every message, code, post, stream, and conversation represents AtlasSportsAI.
